

Strive for College Collaborative Intern - Job Description

Strive for College is a new approach to correcting the inequalities of college, focusing on the lack of information and motivation that many low-income high school students face. Strive for College helps qualified students maximize their opportunity and realize their potential in the college application and financial aid process. Strive accomplishes this through an individualized online curriculum complimented by a grassroots component of undergraduate student mentors.

With an impressive beginning and a strong support base, Strive has the potential to dramatically increase its impact over the next few years. This internship position for Strive for College Collaborative offers a unique opportunity to significantly contribute to the growth of an early stage startup non-profit organization.

Strive seeks an exceptional, self-directed individual who is passionate about education and capable of supporting Strive in any of a variety of ways. Strong results orientation, problem solving ability, and flexibility are essential to excel in this position. More information about Strive for College can be found on our website:
